1	General Comment	The DS 477 is a very detailed document. It is, however, noticeable that in particular for the issue of the preservation of records, knowledge and memory (as found e.g. in the chapter on “Documentation” (4.45 – 4.60) the degree of detailed requirements is rather low, while very little of the work that has been done by the NEA has been integrated and none of the related documents of the NEA is referred to.		Comment accepted. A reference to the NEA work on the preservation of records, knowledge and memory has been added at the end of para 4.59.
